For the Shabby Chic Shopper

June 2, 2011

Vol. 1 Issue 1

Lorraine Peterson

Born and raised in Northern WI this South Range Gramma has always possessed an entrepreneurial spirit. She loves throwing herself into projects and allowing her creativity to shine!

Shabby Shed is a fun hobby that grew from her love of antiques and home décor. She was hooked on buying old furniture when she married her husband Mike who did furniture restoration as a side line business, and the two have nurtured that business for over 30 years. Having recently completed a course in real estate home staging, she combines her love of home decorating with unique pieces to compliment a style. It's all about fun at Shabby Shed, no stress allowed. A couple of Peterson's friends with talent and an eye for chic joined her and the eclectic mix of new and old, shabby and chic exploded. Something amazing happened when the friends started a Facebook page and discovered that people also had guilty pleasures for buying and shopping for unique and chic. The idea of occasional sales gives the friends time each week to hunt for new treasures and/or repurpose a great find. Friday's are Fun Day's and the flags will be flying at the Peterson's home at 7107 E State Road 13 in South Range. Peterson invites people to take a scenic trip out to the shed. Located only 5 miles from Superior, it is a hop, skip and a jump into the peacefulness of the country. No road construction to contend with, no traffic jams, no stop lights, no big city parking lots – no stress.

Introductions

Lorraine would like to introduce the vendors who chose to join her team.

Shari Herubin is talented in so many ways and she is a friend who immediately said she wanted to be a part of this endeavor. Shari is great at distressing pieces, repurposing items and garden art. She also has a keen eye for home decor.

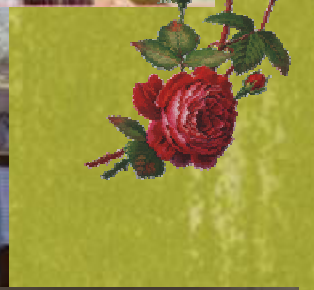

Laurianne Porter is a crafter who has a great eye for nature photography. Many of her craft pieces will also be featured. Many of her friends have been telling her for years she needs to take her talent to the masses. I finally talked her into it!

Julie Plunket loves taking old furniture and antiques and painting them with a shabby chic "look" she makes it so unexpected and fun! The perfect pieces to start or add to your shabby chic look.

Jodi Rochon has always been an entrepreneur at heart. Her most successful business continues to be RJ Peruvian Treasures where she sells beautiful Peruvian jewelry such as necklaces, earrings, bracelets, bangles and rings. Peruvian Silver is light weight, durable and will never tarnish. These pieces are sexy!

Everyone adds new items weekly.
